This November the New Beverly proudly presents a cinematic feast on film! We celebrate the 30th anniversary of Pulp Fiction with screenings of a sumptuous, newly struck 35mm print of Tarantino's Palme d'Or-winning landmark. We pay tribute to Kris Kristofferson, highlight the work of writer-director Nicole Holofcener, spotlight a pair of pre-code horrors shot in two-color Technicolor, plus showcase the legendary Geraldine Page, animation from Hayao Miyazaki & Don Bluth, and much more!

All programs presented on 35mm film!
(unless noted as 16mm)

All paired films are double features - ticket admits you to both!

INGLORIOUS BASTERDS

Saturday • November 2
Harold & Kumar Go to White Castle
 Directed by Danny Leiner (2004) [88 min.]

Fast food. High times. An uneventful evening for stoner pals Harold and Kumar turns into a night of half-baked high-larity when their smoke-addled minds get the munchies, sparking an intense craving for White Castle. Now they're on an epic, late-night burger odyssey to satiate their urge for sliders, and nothing will stop them. John Cho & Kal Penn star, with a scene-stealing Neil Patrick Harris as himself.

Saturday • November 9
Predator (1987) [105 min.]
 Directed by John McTiernan

Director John McTiernan unleashes an action-filled rager of intergalactic proportions packed with big men, big guns, camouflage face paint, torn limbs, and unforgettable Stan Winston effects. An all-star team featuring Arnold Schwarzenegger, Carl "Action Jackson" Weathers & Jesse "The Body" Ventura (plus Commando veteran Bill Duke and Lethal Weapon scribe Shane Black) venture to the jungles of South America to prove once and for all that "if it bleeds, we can kill it."

Saturday • November 16
Confessions of a Teenage Drama Queen
 Directed by Sara Sugarman (2004) [89 min.]

She's making a scene over everything. When an always-dramatic teen (Lindsay Lohan) with dreams of superstardom unhappily moves from the Big Apple to a suburban wasteland, she'll have to navigate a new world while refusing to give up on a future of glitz & glamour. Along the way, she'll make a new friend (Scott Pilgrim's Alison Pill) and face off against her high school's social queen (Megan Fox).

Saturday • November 23
Thanksgiving (2023) [106 min.]
 Directed by Eli Roth

There will be no leftovers. A year after a tragic Black Friday riot at their local RightMart superstore, the citizens in Plymouth start getting picked off one by one by a mysterious killer. Director Eli Roth's long-awaited feature film update of his fictitious Grindhouse trailer was worth the wait, a blood-drenched & fun-filled holiday slasher that's already become mandatory viewing for Thanksgiving season.

Saturday • November 30
Naked Lunch (1991) [115 min.]
 Directed by David Cronenberg

Exterminate all rational thought. Director David Cronenberg tackles William S. Burroughs' notorious novel for a surreal cinematic hallucination beyond explanation. RoboCop's Paul Weller plays William Lee, a drug addicted part-time exterminator whose paranoid fantasies dive him into a bizarre world of government plots & mysterious missions, giant bugs & mind-altering substances, on his way to becoming a writer.

Batman: The Movie (1966) [105 min.]

Directed by Leslie H. Martinson

Wham! Bam! Pow! Adam West and Burt Ward bring Batman & Robin to the big screen in a candy-colored comic book explosion of superhero super fun! The Dynamic Duo will have to use their arsenal of cool Bat-gadgets to brave a fearsome foursome of supervillains and their dastardly plot for world domination. With Cesar Romero as the Joker, Burgess Meredith as the Penguin, Frank Gorshin as the Riddler, and Lee Meriwether as Catwoman.

November 9 & 10 at 2:00pm

Shrek (2001) [90 min.]

Directed by Andrew Adamson & Vicky Jenson

The greatest fairy tale never told! When the solitary swamp life of a grumpy green ogre is interrupted by an influx of exiled creatures, he'll set off on a series of unexpected adventures, battle knights and face a dragon, rescue a princess and outwit the evil Lord Farquaad, with a loudmouthed, wisecracking donkey by his side. Featuring the voices of Mike Myers, Eddie Murphy, Cameron Diaz, and John Lithgow, Shrek won the first Oscar for Best Animated Feature.

November 16 & 17 at 2:00pm

Bee Movie (2007) [91 min.]

Directed by Simon J. Smith & Steve Hickner

Ya like jazz? Honey gets funny in a hilarious & heartfelt animated favorite starring voice actor and co-writer Jerry Seinfeld. Fresh out of college, idealistic bee Barry B. Benson discovers life ahead revolves solely around making honey. Disillusioned, he ventures into the big city where he'll make new friends and uncover a dark truth: humans eat honey. But when he puts mankind on trial, it triggers a potentially Earth-shattering series of events.

November 23 & 24 at 2:00pm

Ratatouille (2007) [111 min.]

Directed by Brad Bird

He's dying to become a chef. In Pixar's critically acclaimed blockbuster, a Parisian rat with a passion for cooking finds an unlikely partner for his culinary dreams. Now the improbable human-rodent duo will hilariously turn the restaurant world upside down with their delicious dishes, if their differences don't derail them first. Winner of the Academy Award for the Best Animated Feature Film of the Year.

November 30 & December 1 at 2:00pm

Batman Returns (1992) [126 min.]

Directed by Tim Burton

Tim Burton's massively entertaining follow-up to his groundbreaking Batman blockbuster goes bigger and bolder with the Penguin (Danny DeVito), Catwoman (Michelle Pfeiffer), and corrupt businessman Max Shrek (Christopher Walken) out to rid the world of the dark knight (Michael Keaton). Batman Returns remains one of film's most ambitious sequels, showcasing incredible production design and visual effects.
